Classical Revival

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1911 by A.B. Snell, this two-story, three-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of seven similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#0267). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with five-course, American-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the dwelling and is complemented by a molded metal cornice and brick corbelling. An interior-side brick chimney rises from the east (side) elevation and an interior-rear brick chimney is located on the north elevation; both have plain brick caps. The façade (south elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled wood door with lights (surmounted by a blind transom) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. All openings are accented by a concrete lintel. The west (side) elevation has fenestration that is consistent with the façade. The rear (north) elevation is pierced by a single-leaf, paneled wood door with lights. A blind transom and a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch tops this opening.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the north side of C Street, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the sidewalk. The raised front yard is marked by mature shrubs and is partially bounded by a concrete block retaining wall.

The rear (north) elevation is pierced by 6/6, double-hung, wood-sash windows, which are accented by two-course, rowlock brick segmental arches.

A two-story brick ell, capped by a sloping roof, extends from the westernmost bay of the rear elevation. Constructed of five-course, American-bond brick, this ell is fenestrated with 6/6, double-hung, wood-sash windows and a single-leaf, wood door with lights. Most openings are topped by a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the north side of C Street, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the sidewalk. The raised front yard is marked by mature trees and is bounded by a brick retaining wall. A brick walkway provides access to the property from the public sidewalk. A wood fence surrounds the backyard of the property.

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1911 by A.B. Snell, this two-story, two-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of seven similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#0267). The dwelling is composed of a two-story main block and a two-story ell extending from the rear (north) elevation. Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with five-course, American-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the dwelling and is complemented by a molded metal cornice and brick corbelling. The façade (south elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled wood door (surmounted by a single-light transom) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. All openings are accented by a concrete lintel. The original one-story, full-width porch has been removed. The rear (north) elevation is fenestrated by 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows.

A two-story brick ell, capped by a sloping roof, extends from the easternmost bay of the rear elevation. This parged ell is fenestrated with 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows.

A one-story, one-bay concrete-block addition, constructed ca. 1960, extends from the rear elevation of the ell. Parged, this addition is capped by a sloping roof. Visible fenestration consists of a single-light vinyl window.

Site Notes:

Architectural Style(s)

Classical Revival

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1912 by J.R. Haislip, this two-story, two-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of twenty-two similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#5628). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is clad with German vinyl siding and aluminum siding on the facade. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. An interior-rear brick chimney rises from the north elevation and has a plain cap. The façade (south elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled wood door with lights (accented by fluted pilasters and a molded lintel) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A one-story, full-width porch spans the façade and is set on a solid concrete foundation. The flat roof, featuring overhanging eaves, is supported by metal filigree posts. The rear (north) elevation is pierced by a single-leaf door and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. All openings have a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

A one-story, full-width screened porch extends from the rear elevation of the dwelling and was constructed ca. 1990. The metal-frame porch is capped by a sloping, glass roof.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the north side of C Street, N.E. and is set back approximately twenty feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised front yard is grassy and is marked by mature shrubs. A retaining wall bounds the yard, which is surrounded by a metal chain-link fence. A concrete walkway provides access to the property from the sidewalk. A metal chain-link fence surrounds the backyard of the property.

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1912 by J.R. Haislip, this two-story, two-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of twenty-two similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#5628). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with five-course, American-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. The façade (south elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled wood door with lights (surmounted by a single-light transom) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows with false 6/6 vinyl muntins. The first story openings are topped by ornamental wood lintels and the second story openings are accented by concrete lintels. The rear (north) elevation is pierced by 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows with false 6/6 vinyl muntins. Each opening is topped by a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the north side of C Street, N.E. and is set back approximately twenty feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised front yard is marked by mature shrubs and foundation plantings and is bounded by a retaining wall. A brick walkway provides access to the property. A wood fence surrounds the backyard of the property.

October 2010: Constructed in 1912 by J.R. Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with five-course, American-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. The façade (east elevation) is fenestrated with a replacement, single-leaf, wood-frame glass door (surmounted by a single-light transom) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A concrete lintel tops each opening on the façade. A one-story, full-width porch spans the façade and is set on a solid foundation. The flat roof, featuring overhanging eaves, is supported by brick posts. The south (side) elevation has fenestration that is consistent with the façade.

A three-story addition, constructed ca. 2009, extends from the rear (west) elevation of the dwelling. The wood-frame addition is clad with beaded vinyl siding and is capped by a flat roof. Visible fenestration consists of single and paired 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows with false 6/6 vinyl muntins.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the west side of 14th Street, N.E. and is set back approximately twenty feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, grassy front yard is marked by mature shrubs and is bounded by a stone retaining wall that is topped by a metal fence. A stone walkway provides access to the property from the public sidewalk. A wood fence surrounds the backyard.

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1912 by J.R. Haislip, this two-story, two-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of twenty-two similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#5628). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with five-course, American-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. An interior-rear brick chimney rises from the west elevation and has a parged cap. The façade (east elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled wood door with lights (surmounted by a single-light transom), 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows with false 6/6 vinyl muntins, and 1/1, double-hung, wood-sash windows. A concrete lintel tops each opening on the façade. A one-story, full-width porch spans the façade and is set on a solid foundation. The flat roof, featuring overhanging eaves, is supported by Tuscan wood columns. The rear (west) elevation is pierced by 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch tops each opening.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the west side of 14th Street, N.E. and is set back approximately twenty feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, grassy front yard is marked by mature shrubs and is bounded by a brick retaining wall. A wood fence surrounds the front yard of the property. A wood fence surrounds the backyard of the property.

The flat roof, featuring overhanging eaves, is supported by brick posts. A solid brick balustrade finishes the porch.

A two-story, full-width addition, constructed ca. 1980, extends from the rear (west) elevation of the dwelling. The side elevations of the addition are faced with brick and the rear elevation is clad with German vinyl siding. A sloping roof caps the addition. Visible fenestration consists of a single-leaf door and paired 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows.

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1912 by J.R. Haislip, this two-story, two-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of twenty-two similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#5628). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with five-course, American-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. An interior-rear brick chimney rises from the west elevation and has a plain cap. The façade (east elevation) is fenestrated with a replacement, single-leaf, paneled wood door (surmounted by a single-light transom) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A concrete lintel tops each opening on the façade. A one-story, full-width porch spans the façade and is set on a solid foundation. The flat roof, featuring overhanging eaves, is supported by brick posts. Corbeled brick balusters encircle the porch. The rear (west) elevation is pierced by 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. Each opening is topped by a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

A one-story, full-width addition is located on the rear elevation of the dwelling and was constructed ca. 1960. Constructed of brick, this addition is capped by a sloping roof. Visible fenestration consists of a single-leaf, paneled wood door.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the west side of 14th Street, N.E. and is set back approximately twenty feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, grassy front yard is marked by mature shrubs and is bounded by a brick retaining wall. A brick walkway provides access to the property from the public sidewalk. A wood fence surrounds the backyard.

October 2010: Constructed in 1912 by J.R. Haislip, this two-story, two-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of twenty-two similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#5628). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with five-course, American-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. An interior-rear brick chimney rises from the west elevation and has a plain cap. The façade (east elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled wood door (surmounted by a single-light transom) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A concrete lintel tops each opening on the façade. A one-story, full-width porch spans the façade and is set on a pier foundation. The flat roof, featuring overhanging eaves, is supported by Tuscan wood columns. The rear (west) elevation is visibly pierced by 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. Each opening is topped by a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the west side of 14th Street, N.E. and is set back approximately twenty feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, grassy front yard is landscaped with mature shrubs and trees and is bounded by a stone retaining wall. A concrete walkway provides access to the property from the sidewalk.

Classical Revival

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1908 by C.B. Hight, this two-story, three-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of ten similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#2281). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with Flemish-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. An exterior-rear brick chimney rises from the west elevation. The façade (east) elevation is fenestrated with a single-leaf, flush wood door with lights (surmounted by a single-light transom) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A concrete jack arch, with a keystone, finishes each window opening. Paired one-light vinyl sliding windows pierce the foundation and are finished with a concrete lintel. A one-story, one-bay porch, set on a solid foundation, shelters the primary entrance. The flat roof, featuring overhanging eaves, is supported by square wood posts. The north (side) elevation is fenestrated with one-light vinyl awning windows. The rear (west) elevation is pierced by 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows and a single-leaf, flush wood door. Each opening is complemented by a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

A one-story, one-bay addition, constructed ca. 1980, extends from the rear elevation of the dwelling. Set on a solid foundation, this wood-frame addition is clad with T-111 siding. A sloping roof, with overhanging eaves, caps the addition. A single-leaf door pierces the west elevation.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the west side of 14th Street, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised front yard is marked by mature shrubs and is bounded by a stone retaining wall.

The rear (southeast) elevation is also pierced by single-light wood casement windows. Each opening on the rear elevation is complemented by a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

A two-story bay, capped by a sloping roof of asphalt shingles, projects from the northeast elevation and was constructed ca. 1975. The northwest elevation of the bay is stuccoed and the northeast elevation is faced with Flemish-bond brick. Visible fenestration consists of one-light wood fixed windows and one-light wood casement windows.

Classical Revival

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1908 by C.B. Hight, this two-story, three-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of ten similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#2281). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with Flemish-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. An exterior-rear brick chimney rises from the southeast elevation. The façade (northwest) elevation is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled wood door with lights (surmounted by a single-light transom) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A concrete jack arch, with a keystone, finishes each window opening. A one-story, one-bay porch, set on a solid parged foundation, shelters the primary entrance. The flat roof, featuring overhanging eaves, is supported by Tuscan wood columns. The rear (southeast) elevation is also pierced by 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. Each opening on the rear elevation is complemented by a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

A one-story, one-bay addition extends from the rear elevation of the dwelling and was constructed ca. 1980. The wood-frame addition is clad with German vinyl siding and is capped by a sloping roof of asphalt shingles. A single-leaf door with lights pierces the southeast elevation.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the southeast side of Tennessee Avenue, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, grassy front yard is marked by mature shrubs and is bounded by a retaining wall. A metal bow and picket fence surrounds the front yard. A wood fence encloses the backyard of the property.

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1916 by Harry A. Kite, this two-story, two-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of seven similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#3290). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with Flemish-bond brick. A basketweave-bond brick stringcourse spans the façade above the first story openings and a soldier brick stringcourse spans the façade above the second story openings. A sloping roof caps the building and is fronted along the façade by a false mansard roof of slate shingles. A molded metal cornice with block modillions finishes the roof. A pedimented, blind dormer marks the false mansard roof. An exterior-rear brick chimney rises from the southeast elevation and has a plain cap. The façade (northwest elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled wood door with lights (surmounted by a blind transom) and paired and triple 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A stoop extends from the façade of the dwelling and is set on a pier foundation.

A two-story addition extends from the rear (southeast) elevation of the dwelling and was constructed ca. 2005. The wood-frame addition is clad with Hardieplank siding and is fenestrated with a single-leaf door with lights and single and paired 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the southeast side of Tennessee Avenue, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, grassy front yard is marked by mature shrubs and is bounded by a stone retaining wall. A metal chain-link fence surrounds the front yard of the property, which is accessed via a concrete walkway.

Classical Revival

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1916 by Harry A. Kite, this two-story, two-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of seven similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#3290). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with Flemish-bond brick. A basketweave-bond brick stringcourse spans the façade above the first story openings and a soldier brick stringcourse spans the façade above the second story openings. A sloping roof caps the building and is fronted along the façade by a false mansard roof of slate shingles. A molded metal cornice with block modillions finishes the roof. A pedimented, blind dormer marks the false mansard roof. An exterior-rear brick chimney rises from the southeast elevation and has a plain cap. The façade (northwest elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, wood-frame glass door (surmounted by a single-light transom) and paired and triple 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A one-story, two-bay porch shelters the primary entrance and is set on a brick pier foundation. The metal awning roof is supported by metal filigree posts. Metal balusters finish the porch.

A two-story, full-width addition is located on the rear (southeast) elevation and was constructed ca. 2000. The addition is faced with stretcher-bond brick and is capped by a sloping roof. Visible fenestration consists of a single-leaf, paneled wood door with lights and paired 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows with false 6/6 vinyl muntins. A fanlight surmounts the first story window opening.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the southeast side of Tennessee Avenue, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, grassy front yard is marked by mature shrubs and is surrounded by a stone retaining wall that is topped by a metal milled point fence. Brick steps provide access to the property. A wood fence surrounds the backyard.

Classical Revival

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1916 by Harry A. Kite, this two-story, two-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of seven similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#3290). Set on a solid concrete foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with Flemish-bond brick. A basketweave-bond brick stringcourse spans the façade above the first story openings and a soldier brick stringcourse spans the façade above the second story openings. A sloping roof caps the building and is fronted along the façade by a false mansard roof of slate shingles. A molded metal cornice with block modillions finishes the roof. A pedimented dormer, holding a louvered vent and a twelve-light wood window, marks the false mansard roof. An exterior-rear brick chimney rises from the southeast elevation and has a plain cap. The façade (northwest elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, wood-frame glass door (surmounted by a single-light transom) and paired and triple 1/1, double-hung, wood-sash windows. A one-story, full-width porch spans the façade and is set on a brick pier foundation with wood lattice infill. The flat roof, featuring overhanging eaves and block modillions, is supported by brick posts set upon brick pedestals. Metal balusters finish the porch. A gabled bay rises from the roof the dwelling and provides access to the roof from the interior of the dwelling.

A two-story, full-width enclosed porch, capped by a sloping roof, is located on the rear (southeast) elevation of the dwelling. The wood-frame enclosed porch is clad with aluminum siding and is fenestrated by a single-leaf, paneled wood door with lights and 6/6, double-hung, wood-sash windows.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the southeast side of Tennessee Avenue, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, grassy front yard is marked by mature shrubs and is bounded by a stone retaining wall. A concrete walkway provides access to the property from the public sidewalk. The backyard is paved with concrete.

Classical Revival

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1911 by James D. Burn, this two-story, three-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of ten similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#5861). Set on a solid brick foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with Flemish-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. The façade (northwest elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled wood door with lights (surmounted by a single-light transom) and 9/1, double-hung, wood-sash windows. A one-story, one-bay porch is located on the façade and is set on a brick pier foundation with decorative concrete block infill. The flat roof of the porch features overhanging eaves and is supported by metal filigree posts. Metal balusters finish the porch. Visible fenestration on the rear (southeast) elevation consists of 2/2, double-hung, wood-sash windows. Each opening is topped by a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

A one-story, full-width addition extends from the rear elevation and was constructed ca. 2000. The wood-frame addition is clad with Hardieplank siding and is capped by a sloping roof. Asphalt shingles cover the roof. Visible fenestration consists of 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the southeast side of Tennessee Avenue, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, front yard is marked by mature shrubs and foundation plantings and is bounded by a retaining wall. A metal milled point fence surrounds the front yard. A wood fence surrounds the backyard of the property.

Classical Revival

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1911 by James D. Burn, this two-story, three-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of ten similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#5861). Set on a solid brick foundation, this brick dwelling is faced with Flemish-bond brick. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. The façade (northwest elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled metal door with an oval light (surmounted by a single-light transom) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A concrete lintel accents each opening. A one-story, one-bay porch is located on the façade and is set on a stone-veneered pier foundation with stone infill. The flat roof of the porch features overhanging eaves and is supported by stone posts set upon stone pedestals. Metal balusters finish the porch. Visible fenestration on the rear (southeast) elevation consists of 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. Each opening is topped by a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the southeast side of Tennessee Avenue, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, grassy front yard is marked by mature shrubs and is bounded by a stone retaining wall. A metal chain-link fence surrounds the front yard, which is accessed via a concrete walkway. The backyard is laid with brick and is surrounded by a wood fence.

A concrete lintel accents each opening. A one-story, one-bay porch is located on the façade. The metal awning roof of the porch is supported by metal filigree posts. Metal balusters finish the porch. Visible fenestration on the rear (southeast) elevation consists of 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. Each opening is topped by a two-course, rowlock brick segmental arch.

A one-story enclosed porch is located on the rear (southeast) elevation of the dwelling and is capped by a sloping roof. The wood-frame addition is clad with Hardieplank siding. Fenestration was not visible from the public right-of-way.

A third story, constructed ca. 2000, is located on the roof of the dwelling. Emulating a mansard roof, covered with asphalt shingles, this addition is marked by three gabled dormers on the northwest elevation. Each dormer holds a 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash window. The rear elevation of the addition is clad with German vinyl siding and is fenestrated with 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the southeast side of Tennessee Avenue, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised front yard is marked by mature shrubs, foundation plantings, and small trees and is bounded by a stone retaining wall. A metal milled point fence surrounds the front yard, which is accessed via a concrete walkway. A wood fence surrounds the backyard.

Classical Revival

Exterior & Architectural Notes:

October 2010: Constructed in 1911 by James D. Burn, this two-story, three-bay Classical Revival-style single-family rowhouse is one of ten similar dwellings constructed from the same permit (#5861). Set on a solid brick foundation, this brick dwelling is clad with Permastone. A sloping roof caps the building and is accented by a molded metal cornice. An interior-side brick chimney rises from the southwest elevation and has a plain cap. The façade (northwest elevation) is fenestrated with a single-leaf, paneled wood door (surmounted by a single-light transom) and 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A one-story, one-bay porch is located on the façade and is set on a Permastone-clad pier foundation with Permastone-clad infill. The flat roof of the porch features overhanging eaves and is supported by Permastone-clad posts set upon Permastone-clad pedestals. Metal balusters finish the porch. The southwest (side) elevation has fenestration that is consistent with the façade. A full-height projecting bay is located on the rear (southeast) elevation of the dwelling and is original. Visible fenestration consists of 1/1, double-hung, vinyl-sash windows. A one-story, one-bay enclosed porch is located on the rear elevation of the bay and is set on a brick pier foundation with honeycomb brick infill. The wood-frame enclosed porch is clad with asbestos shingles and is capped by a shed roof. A single-leaf door and single-light windows fenestrate the enclosed porch.

Site Notes:

October 2010: This two-story, single-family rowhouse is located on the northeast corner of Tennessee Avenue, N.E. and C Street, N.E. and is set back approximately fifteen feet from the concrete sidewalk. The raised, grassy front yard is landscaped with mature shrubs and foundation plantings and is bounded by a stone retaining wall. A metal milled point fence surrounds the yard.
