The Capitol Hill Restoration Society Presents...

... the House and Garden Tour

This year, the tour is centered on the Barracks Row area. In addition to the usual grand homes and lush gardens, this year's tour features an ensemble of "tiny houses" – the alley dwellings on Archibald Walk and F Street Terrace. This is one of Washington's few remaining inhabited alleys, where five residents welcome you to their community and their homes. Enjoy this unique opportunity Mothers Day weekend, May 7 and 8. Visit chrs.org for details and ticket sales.

Yard Sale?

The NLPNA has traditionally held a yard sale on the first Saturday after Mothers Day. However, the usual organizers are unavailable and the event hasn't been scheduled. If you would like to organize one, contact The Buzz.

Capitol Hill Village Presents

... Village Voices, a Capitol Hill Village free series for community members to learn from each other. Jim Grossman, executive director of the American Historical Association, discusses confederate statues and symbols on Tuesday, May 3, 7 p.m. at the Northeast Library, 330 7th St. NE. Register at 543-1778 or info@capitolhillvillage.org.

... and a series of discussions among Capitol Hill residents with aging family members who want help thinking through what to do, how to do it. CHV hopes to use these conversations to design programs to support individuals and families, whether their loved ones are nearby or across the globe. If you are interested in hosting or participating, please contact Molly Singer at 543-1778 or msinger@capitolhillvillage.org.

Great Masters, Young Stars

Capital City Symphony performs Sunday, May 8 at 5 p.m. at Atlas Performing Arts Center, 1333 H St. NE. Enjoy Brahms' Violin Concerto in D Major with the violin winner of the Johansen International Competition, and Beethoven's Symphony No. 6 in F Major, "Pastoral." Reserve tickets (adults $25, students $15, kids age 16 or under free) through the Atlas box office at www.atlasarts.org or 399-7993. For more information, visit capitalcitysymphony.org.
